GENERATION Z SHOWS US HOW IT'S FUCKING DONE

BY RONAN PORTER

Less than two weeks after a student armed himself with an AR-15 and killed 17 people at a school in Parkland, Florida, survivors of the mass shooting have called bullshit on 'thoughts and prayers' and have started a nationwide movement for change - #NeverAgain. They aren't fucking around.

"Senator Rubio, can you tell me right now that you will not accept a single donation from the NRA?" - Cameron Kasky Kasky and other survivors got the opportunity to question their local politicians in a forum hosted by CNN shortly after the shooting. They ripped into them.

"They don't need to tell us that we don't know what we're talking about. We have stared down the barrel of an AR-15 ourselves. We're just trying to not let 17 of us get shot in the fucking face again." Kasky yells to a crowd at a rally for #NeverAgain, they're campaigning for 'common sense laws' such as more thorough background checks and a ban on add-ons that are capable of turning semi-automatic weapons fully automatic.

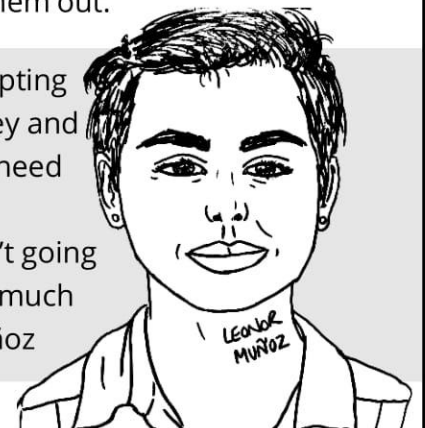

So what's Drumpf's solution? Why, arming teachers of course! Because logically the solution is to add MORE guns to the situation, can you imagine your teachers from school armed with guns? Not only is this solution fucking idiotic, it would also mean over $1 billion in windfall for the NRA and gun companies in equipment and training costs. Corrupt much?

These students have been accused of being 'crisis actors' planted by left-wing extremists. They've even received death threats - DEATH THREATS. What the fuck is wrong with people?! It only spurs them on, they've raised over $2 million for a 500,000 people strong march on Washington next month. The NRA may have their claws in current politicians, but this is where the 2018 midterm elections come in to play, it's time to vote them out.

"If they keep on...accepting the NRA's blood money and prioritizing the NRA's need over our children's needs...well they aren't going to have a job for very much longer." - Leonor Muñoz

WOMEN AND YOUNG GIRLS STILL BEING VIOLATED BY ARCHAIC "TRADITIONS"

BY KAUSHIKEE GUPTA

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) is recognized internationally as a violation of the human rights of girls and women. It reflects deep-rooted inequality between the sexes, and constitutes an extreme form of discrimination against women. It is nearly always carried out on minors, violating the rights of children. The practice also violates a person's rights to health, security and physical integrity; the right to be free from torture and cruel, inhuman, degrading treatment; and the right to life when the procedure results in death.

But you will be surprised to know that in this very century where we should have the freedom to live life on our own terms there still exists countries where FGM is an ongoing phenomenon. WHY? You ask? In countries where rape is not yet fully outlawed, the reasons used for female genital mutilation are limited only by the imagination.

After years and years of protests from activists in Somaliland, which has one of the world's highest rates of FGM, they only last month announced a fatwa (religious edict) banning Type 2 and Type 3 of female cutting. Even though this is a major step forward, the fatwa has no legal significance without supporting legislation, and it does not outlaw Type 1 FGM which is the most commonly practiced.

It is still uncertain whether the present cabinet will fully condemn and outlaw FGM, as there has been no indication of the type, or severity, of punishment that those who continue to practice FGM will face. Also if only two types of FGM gets legally condemned by the religious ministry, it will be allowing and legitimizing Type 1 FGM. Thus feeding the blurred lines between religious issues and delusional man-made cultural practices.

DRUMPF OR NOT?

"I too have a Nuclear Button, but it is a much bigger and more powerful one than his!"

DID HE SAY THIS?

FIND OUT THE ANSWER IN OUR NEXT ISSUE OUT MARCH 19TH

LAST ISSUE: YES. HE DID SAY THAT

There are four major types of FGM:

Type 1: "Clitoridectomy", this is the partial or total removal of the clitoris (a small, sensitive and erectile part of the female genitals), and in very rare cases, only the prepuce (the fold of skin surrounding the clitoris).

Type 2: "Excision", this is the partial or total removal of the clitoris and the labia minora (the inner folds of the vulva), with or without excision of the labia majora (the outer folds).

Type 3: "Infibulation", this is the narrowing of the vaginal opening through the creation of a seal. The seal is formed by cutting and repositioning the labia minora, or majora, sometimes through stitching, with or without removal of the clitoris.

Type 4: This includes all other harmful procedures to the female genitalia for non-medical purposes, e.g. pricking, piercing, incising, scraping and cauterizing the genital area.
